I absolutely am opposed to any tax dollars being used to fund this new stadium in Hartford. There was a perfectly good stadium being used in Bristol for the Rock Cats, which was a much better name, by the way, than the horrible Yard Goats. If you think a stadium in Hartford is going to bring more people you are sadly mistaken. how about using the tax dollars to clean up the city and get rid of the crime that is rampant there, then maybe you can build a stadium the people would actually want to bring their families too. Until then no tax dollars for any new stadium.
